Our COVID-19 Response

Beginning March 14th, Childcare Resources suspended all in-person programming in response to the COVID-19 pandemic:

- Tuition was not charged during this time period in order to ease the financial burden on program families.
- Childcare Resources staff spent more than 120 hours in training covering topics like trauma-informed care.
- Virtual classrooms were provided to all Childcare Resources School students to provide daily classroom interaction.
- Children that regularly meet with therapists continued those meetings using teletherapy. Activity boxes were delivered to children working on motor skill development.
- Staff communicated regularly with program parents, providing updates and resources.
- Childcare Resources assisted families with additional needs including providing food, formula, and diapers to families running low on supplies.
- Childcare Resources wellness staff helped families navigate medical needs unrelated to COVID-19.
- Programs and meetings for early educators continued virtually.
- Local early educators were provided with resources and tips on a weekly basis.
The Childcare Resources School reopened on June 8, following CDC guidelines to reduce capacity and implement social distancing.
